There was the same feeling of and foreboding in the air that those witnessed uprisings on the part of in England and on the continent ore full well. There were three times many people on the streets to-day to be seen on any day for a month Seventeenths of them, men and women displayed some emblem. The major- wore the white ribbon, emblematic of with the strikers, and against the which the White Ribboners of the Christian Temperance Union have a terror, but apparently ineffectual Silken miniatures of the Stars and too, made their appearance this and before noon they were to be by the thousands serving Southtioneres or being pinned In many instances these em- of loyalty to the national government, best testimony of the wearer to the that he was prepared to support and the laws of the country was fastened significant bronze button of the Army of the Republic. It was significant also the Stars and Stripes were hoisted scores flagpoles both in the business and resi- districts that are generally bare except the 4th of July, Decoration Day and sim- national or local holidays.

A Moving Throng.

The people on the streets kept moving. There was no congregation of crowds ex- cept at the military camps on the lake and the government building and in front of the various headquarters of the labor organizations. But as they walked they talked of the present and future of the situation and so also it was at the cafés, the restaurants, to the saloons, and in all the other places of public resort.

Commercial circles there were lamen- tably cool and deep, for retail business of every kind is in a state of paralysis and the wholesale trade is faring but little, if any better. Everybody agreed that affairs had been brought up to the highest tension, and to use the vernacular, "something or other must speedily drop," to bring relief.

President Debs Arrested.

Although, to some extent, it had been anticipated, the arrest of President Debs and his associates was the sensation of the day. The president of the A. R. U. and his colleagues were brought in quietly and without any of the lurid fires or out- bursts of popular indignation that sensa- tionalists had predicted. The Federal grand jury, composed almost entirely of well-known residents, occupied less time than had been expected in reaching the decision that the evidence presented for the prosecution was sufficient to justify the finding of true bills against the lead- ers of the union. No other result had been expected by those who listened to the charge of Judge Grosscup, which, al- though it is denounced with fury at the headquarters of the various labor organ- izations to-night, is generally commended even by commercial and professional cir- cles as a masterly exposition of the line between the legal and justifiable methods of labor organization, and defiance of the laws or rebellion against the authority of the United States. The jurists took their stand, emphatically, that while the right of labor to organize could not be successfully attacked, and that while it was the imperishable right of a free man to strike or quit work as he saw fit, and that while moreover he was entitled to all of the fruits of the strategy of work or cessation from work, yet that, at the same time, trades organizations are sub- ject to the same laws as other associa- tions, that their leaders are also subject to the same laws governing all other men and that no organization, nor leaders of such organizations, could with impunity violate the laws enacted for the govern- ment of interstate commerce or the pro- tection of the mails. It was a memorable hour when, looking straight ahead, with finger uplifted and speaking in clear-cut tones as though he would drive his words like a dagger of steel into the hearts of his hearers, Judge Grosscup said that the present emergency was to vindicate by law and that only, and that, if that law had been violated there should be quick, sharp and adequate indictment. When the jury turned towards its consulting chamber there was not a man within reach of the Judge's voice that had not already made up his mind that a return of indictments against the leaders of the mobs would be as quick and as prompt as it was responsible for the putting into operation of the machinery of the Fed- eral courts could possibly desire.

The Union's Answer.

Organized labor was prompt to strike back at the latest manifestation of Fed- eral power and authority. Hardly had the word been flashed across the half a mile of intervening ground between the gov- ernment building and labor headquarters that indictments had been returned and warrants for Debs and his associates placed in the hands of the officers of the law when the committee appointed by the trade and labor organizations of the city to urge upon the Pullman company the desirability of submitting the dispute with its ex-employees to arbitration, and which had been endowed with autocratic authori- ty in the event of a refusal being re- turned, attached its signature to the order calling out every union man in the city from midnight. Almost before the ink was dry on this document, General Master Workman Sovereign of the Knights of Labor, placed the official seal of the order upon a manifesto addressed to members of the organization through- out the country, declaring that a crisis had been reached in the affairs of the na- tion that endangered the peace of the re- public, that the flames of discord were being purposely fanned by the railroad corporations at the risk of the life of the government and appealing to the order and through it to the whole people to lay down the implements of toil for a short season and under the banner of peace and with patriotic impulse to create through peaceable assemblage a healthy public sentiment in favor of the amicable settle- ment of the issues involved. The mani- festo was couched in somewhat qualified terms, for while in one portion it appealed to the order, as though its executive offi- cer was at the moment of writing a little doubtful of his ground or the scope of his authority, it, later on, specially requested the membership not to return to its usual avocations until a settlement of the pend- ing trouble had been made known through authentic sources. This order, or request, or whatever it might properly be desig- nated, was wired at once to the officers of district assembly through out the country with instructions looking to its immedi- ate transmission to the executive heads of each local assembly. The organization of the Knights and its means of communi- cating with the individual memberships are so perfect that it was the opinion at headquarters that every Knight of Labor in the land would be acquainted with the ultimatum by the midnight hours.

District assembly 24, representing every local assembly in Chicago and surround- ing towns, was the first to respond to the executive appeal, and this evening by for- mal resolution it declared it to be the duty of all members within its jurisdic- tion to carry out the suggestions it con- tained, and at the same time declared that during the crisis it was the duty of all members of the order to refrain from congregating in crowds upon the street and to use every endeavor to maintain peace and order in the community.

Roseate Reports.

The reports issued during the day from the offices of the General Railway Man- agers association were of the usual roseate hue, although in nearly every case the statements made were fortified by facts and figures. Nearly every road re- ported an improvement in through pas- senger traffic and in a few cases a trifling movement toward raising the freight blockade. It was admitted that with a couple of exceptions the suburban service of all the roads is badly crippled, if not at a standstill. These reports would seem on their face to indicate that the situation so far as it concerned the railroads them- selves, was gradually but surely righting itself of its own accord, but this inference was materially modified by the official statement made to the United Press to- day, that, while the general managers have a sufficient number of new men who resume operations in all departments they are nevertheless dependent upon the mili- tary to secure protection for what out- going trains are being despatched and in- coming ones received, and that, with the present rule of mob law, things would be worse than ever were the protection of the troops withdrawn. This significant admission was held at strikers' headquar- ters as practically a declaration that the military instead of the managers them- selves, are running the business of the railroad corporations, a condition of af- fairs scarcely capable of prolonged con- tinuance.

Soldiers are Prepared.

No official proclamations were issued during the day from army headquarters in the Pullman building. At General Miles's offices to-night, the condition from the army standpoint was characterized as one of absolute security. In the opinion of the General and his cabinet, the force of reg- ulars on the scene is sufficient to cope with trouble of any dimensions without taking into account the co-operation of the 5000 members of the militia and of the small army of United States deputy mar- shals and other police officers. In a nut- shell, the Department of Missouri, while not looking for trouble, is amply prepared for it. All the troops are mobilized on the lake front within a stone's throw from army headquarters, and can be brought into action within 15 minutes. The military guards at the postoffice and sub-treasury as well as at the custom house were materially strengthened to- day, not as a matter of necessity, but simply as a wise precaution. A special force of 250 United States deputy mar- shals was also sworn in to-night to guard the northern, eastern and southern ap- proaches to the postoffice building, in which the vaults of the sub-treasury are located. The military are encamped on the grass plot on the west side of the structure. The authorities have not the slightest idea that the strikers contem- plate a raid upon the vaults, no anarch- istic threats of this nature having been made, but they are fearful of the congre- gation of a mob of unemployed, hoodlums, and of the thousands of the tough ele- ment of equally tough letters, less than a couple of stones throw distance and which might make trouble about the building before an adequate force for its disper- sion could be got together.

Criticises Pullman

The absolute and unqualified refusal of George M. Pullman to submit to a com- mittee, to be composed in part of judges of the Circuit Courts, the question wheth- er or not there was anything in the dis- pute with his ex-employees that was worthy of being submitted to arbitration, has caused the intense feeling to be mani- fested toward the magnate to spread to tens of thousands of people that hitherto have either kept in the middle of the line or have been outspoken in their advocacy of Pullman's position.

Newspapers also that have been singled out for the denunciation of the strikers for their editorial attitude in the support of the Pullman interest, are changing ground and criticising the head of the corporation in no weak language. One of the number says this evening that Pull- man's day will come that his so-called reign as it is claimed to be, is a crime against the commonwealth and an insult to humanity and that when the end comes the people of Illinois will address their at- tention to George M. Pullman, and it will be the duty of the Governor and legisla- ture of Illinois, Mayor and city council of Chicago and Attorney General of the State to strike a blow that has been de- layed too long. A morning paper which has been conspicuously bitter against the strikers, takes the ground editorially that in refusing to respond otherwise than in a decided negative to all appeals toward arbitration, Pullman is in the wrong and invites the public to believe so and that even the terrible sins of the labor leaders against innocent people will not absolve him from the responsibility that rests upon every citizen and it is more weighty upon those who occupy high positions in the world than upon the poor and lowly.

The report was current to-night that the directors of the Pullman Palace Car com- pany, including Marshall Field, John W. Doane, Norman Williams and O. S. A. Sprague, of this city, with Henry C. Hol- lart of New York, and Henry R. Reed of Boston, are on the brink of revolt over the dictatorial policy of the president, and that many of the largest among the 7000 stockholders are feeling the same way. A very close friend of Mr. Pullman is quoted as saying that his present holdings in the company aggregate less than half a mil- lion of dollars, out of a total capital stock of $25,000,000, or at present Wall street quotation, of $35,000,000. The annual meeting of the stockholders is but three weeks off, and it is said that a number of large and small holders have combined and are in communication with the great body of their associates for the purpose of bringing about a change in the head of the corporation solely in order to pro- tect the future of this great property in- terest.

ENDED IN COLORADO.

Freight and Passenger Traffic Resumed on the Rio Grande.

Denver, July 10.—The railway strike in Colorado is practically ended. The com- mittee that went to Salida, representing the orders of the locomotive engineers, firemen and conductors, succeeded in in- ducing the strikers there to resume work this morning, and freight as well as pas- senger trains are once more moving on every division of the Rio Grande road. President Jeffery in speaking of this to- day said: "It is the first time in the his- tory of great railroad strikes where a committee of employees have taken it upon themselves to go over a system and exhort their co-employees to return to work."

A few more riotous strikers were ar- rested at Trinidad to-day.

At Albuquerque the Santa Fe moved five passenger trains to-day but cattle shipments are still suffering.

A good supply of coke and coal is com- ing into Denver and the smelters will not be compelled to shut down.

Meat Markets Join the Boycott.

Topeka, July 10.—Agents of the large Kansas City packing houses to-day re- ceived orders to deliver no meat to small dealers except for cash and as a result several of them were compelled to close their doors and many will suspend to- morrow. The small markets are located in the railroad district and rely for their patronage almost entirely upon the strik- ers and employees of the machine shops of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe who were locked out by the closing of the shops. The Santa Fe is behind in the payment of wages and the strike, cutting off the company's revenue, has still fur- ther delayed payments, as the receivers have no other resources than the daily re- ceipts with which to pay operating ex- penses. The position taken by the pack- ers will work great hardship.

Attempted Train Wrecking.

Deming, N. M., July 10.—An attempt was made last night to wreck a special train carrying troops from Fort Bayard to Raton and Trinidad, in the Deming yards. Four switches which had been thrown open were discovered just in time. The train passed the spot at a high speed. The A. R. U. members are indignant and now offer to guard the railroad property at their own expense.

PRENDERGAST'S FATE.

Unless Altgeld Interferes He Will Hang on Friday.

Chicago, July 10.—Unless the Governor is appealed to and grants a respite, Patrick Eugene Prendergast will hang next Friday between the hours of 10 and 12 a. m. The last legal resource, the Supreme Court of this State, has been appealed to without a stay. Judge Bailey late this afternoon, after twenty-four hours of mature deliberation, declined to direct the writ of error or issue a supedeas. He found no substantial error in the records and so told Messrs. Darrow, Har- land and Greenbury, the assassin's attorneys, who met the Judge in chambers. The attor- neys would not state whether they would ap- peal to the Governor or not, but in the light of their past hard fight for their client it is expected that such action will be taken.

New York Stock Market.

New York, July 10.—Money on call has been easy at 1 per cent.; last loan at 1, and closing at 1 per cent. Prime mercan- tile paper 3 1-2@4 per cent.

The tendency of prices was downward at the Stock Exchange to-day, notwith- standing advices that the roads were making some progress against the strikers in Chicago; it being reported that several of the prominent lines were able to handle certain classes of freight for the first time in a week or so. This did not turn the bears from their purpose, however, these operators laying considerable stress on the ability of the Chicago trades unions who have taken a hand in the fight, to bring about a condition of affairs which will surely lead to liquidation in the stock market. Total sales were 163,500 shares. The firmness of the sterling exchange market is attracting more attention and the absence of bills due to the light move- ment of grain and provisions is reviving talk of gold exports by European steam- ers late in the week.

The bond market was weak. Sales were $556,000.

ANARCHIST PEFFER.

The Populist Senator Defends Law- breaking and Mobs.

HE IS ANSWERED BY DAVIS.

A Ringing Defense of Law and Liberty —The House Bill for the Admis- sion of Utah Passed by the Senate.

Washington, July 10.—The Senate spent three hours to-day in debate upon the res- olution offered Monday by the Populist Sena- tor from Kansas, Mr. Peffer, looking to government control of interstate railroads, the regulation of their freight and passenger rates, the fixing of the wages of railroad employes, the acquisition and operation (either by the Federal government or by the State governments) of all the coal beds of the country; and to many other ideas of the Populist party. As was to be expected, the great railroad strike at Chicago was the chief topic in the debate. In his speech Mr. Peffer said the resolution which he had of- fered was made up of four or five distinct parts—all relating to one fundamental error which the country had fallen into and through which a few men here and a few men there, had usurped governmental func- tions. And so his resolution began with the proposition that all public functions ought to be exercised by public officers.

Mr. Peffer went on to speak of the several attempts made before the present great strike to have an arbitration with the Pullman company and said when they failed the strike came—a general dropping of tools, a leaving of employment and a letting the railroads go ahead without their employes if they could. The object was, he said, sim- ply to have the Pullman cars dropped. The men of the American Railway Union would not handle them and in modern parlance a boycott was declared. It was not his pur- pose, he said, to argue whether that act was right or wrong. That was not the point now. The situation confronted the Senate, and it was its duty to deal with it. The rail- road companies stood by the Pullman com- pany, let the results be what they might.

"Are you not quite aware" Mr. Hawley, (Rep.) of Connecticut asked, "that the rail- road companies have contracts with the Pull- man company by which they are bound to use the Pullman cars?"

"These men," was Mr. Peffer's answer, "have nothing to do with those contracts. The use of Pullman cars in interstate com- merce is a mere matter of personal conven- ience, and it is a strange thing to see a Sena- tor bringing in those contracts in connection with the great question that confronts us, more especially as a Senator who has been champion of American labor. From such friends may God save us."

"I do not wonder," he continued, "some- times that there is a growing feeling against the political condition of things in Washing- ton. I do not wonder my friends write to me expressing the hope that the Senate shall be abolished. I wrote to one of them the other day saying that I would vote for its abolition, and I would go farther, and vote for the abolition of the House of Represent- atives. I would favor the government to be confined to one man (not more than one) from each State. At any rate, one man can do no worse than a few hundred men have done." Then Mr. Peffer went on to speak of the grand spectacle that would be pre- sented when all workmen of the country stopped work; when all the life of the com- munities would be at an absolute and perfect standstill—like the silence of a Sunday morning; when nobody would be at work; when everything would be paralyzed and inert. And that was, he said, what this thing meant to the American people. The time had come for employers to learn how to handle the situation, by fair treatment of their men; and if they could not do that, it was time for the people, in their sovereign capacity, to interfere and say that the thing had gone far enough—to say: "Thus far and no farther."

Then Mr. Peffer referred to some ser- mons of Washington clergymen in criti- cising the Populists and their doctrine—de- scribing Populism as simply an incipi- ent, ignorant and unorganized socialism, which arrayed the poor against the rich and the improvident against the provi- dent and whose legitimate fruitage was mob violence. He was asked to name the clergyman whose sermon he specially criticised, and he gave the name of the Rev. Dr. Hamlin. The Populist, Mr. Pef- fer declared, was the antipode of an- archy, but the church was "in the dark valley of the shadow of death, groveling for light;" and the men who were out- side of it—as he was to-day—were asked that it be restored to that sort of Christ- ianity which "One Master" taught. He denounced teaching the use of arms in the colleges, public schools and even, he said, in the Sunday schools; and he exclaimed passionately, "It is time that this milit- arism should cease." In conclusion he said that he would not ask action on his resolution, but he besought Senators to pay some attention to it, and to treat it in that conservative, statesmanlike way that would throw out to the people some intimation that the Senate would not turn its back upon them.

Then Mr. Davis (Rep.) of Minnesota rose and declared in a manner which betrayed intense indignation, that he had heard with amazement and pain much of Mr. Peffer's remarks. He had supposed that by common consent it appeared to be the better course not to inflame the situation by speeches on either side, because even the most moderate language, at such a time, might be construed into intemper- ance. And he went on: "At a time when, in the second city of the United States and in the fourth or fifth city of the civ- ilized world, order is suspended, law is powerless, violence is supreme, life is in danger and property is in the very spasms of destruction, I am amazed to hear the trumpet of sedition blow in this chamber, to marshal the hosts of misrule to further devastation."

It was not an issue, he continued, be- tween the Pullman company and its em- ployees; it had got beyond that. It had got beyond the strike of the American Railway union. The boycott had taken the liberties of the American people by the throat. From that it had gone to riot, and from riot to an insurrection which confronted the country, and to- day, with all the dormant and latent pow- ers of revolution threatening the country, the Senator from Kansas was advising the dismemberment of the government and abolition of the legislative and exec- utive departments. He (Mr. Davis) spoke on this occasion with great reluctancy. He would not say a single word to inflame the situation. But something had been said by the Senator from Kansas which demanded a reply; and that reply, to be efficacious, had to be immediate. He would speak in regard to the men who immediately engaged in the existing dim- culties with the utmost moderation and kindness. They were misled and mis- guided men. But they were not the en- tire people. The Senator from Kansas had professed to speak for the people of the country, but those for whom he had spoken were the mob that had obtained control of a great strategic point.

Here Mr. Peffer interrupted and said that he protested against being misrepre- sented.

"I decline to yield," said Mr. Davis an- grily. "The Senator speaks in behalf of a mob."

"He does nothing of the kind," Mr. Pef- fer broke in, "and the Senator from Min- nesota knows it."

"A mob," Mr. Davis continued, "of mis- guided men which has seized by force a strategic point in the city of Chicago, paralyzed the means of intercourse and stopped the supply of food over several States of the Northwest. The Senator from Kansas speaks of the rights of labor (and in the abstract I am with him). No one denied that there are, before the American people, to be settled through legislation, vast questions as to the rights of labor and capital.

"The Senator from Kansas has no word of reproof, not a single word of reproach, for the bloodshed that has been going on in Chicago for the last 10 days, or for the millions of property that has been de- stroyed. The red light of arson against the sky over that city has awakened in him no pang, and elicited from him no word of disapprobation. He insists that we must go back to the causes of the strike; to the dispute between Pullman and his men, and must arbitrate that; while everybody knows that we have got far beyond that transaction."

"The Senator from Kansas," said Mr. Davis, "proposes to disturb the govern- ment itself and expresses the opinion that now is the time to annihilate the legisla- tive and executive functions of the gov- ernment and change its principle into that of a "Committee of Public Safety," like that which existed during the "Reign of Terror" in the days of the first French revolution. The railroad employees of the country number five or six hundred thou- sand men, indispensable, useful, valuable citizens in ordinary times when not mis- led, but compared to the great mass of the American people, how few they are in numbers. Why will they not learn, and why will not their self-appointed leaders teach them the doctrine of a community of interest and of interdependence of all upon the whole? Does anybody suppose that by burning cars, destroying property, disturbing security, weakening credit, the employment of poor men is to be in- creased hereafter? Why, they are destroy- ing the very thing from which they de- rive their nourishment, the very thing which they have helped to build, and they are doing it at the command of self-ap- pointed dictators, who have put them- selves at the head of their organizations. And people prate about liberty. The only liberty worth having in this country is the equal liberty of all men alike, liberty in its philosophical and commonsense defi- nition—the right of the individual to ex- ercise the freest action, up to and not be- yond that point where he infringes on the exercise of the like right of other men."

In the last two hours of the session the postoffice bill and the House bill for the admission of Utah as a State were passed.

House.

According to the arrangement made by him with the Committee on Rules, Mr. McRae, chairman of the Committee on Public Lands, to-day called up the bill re- ported from his committee to amend the railroad land grant forfeiture law of Sept. 29, 1890, by inserting a substitute for sec- tion 1, greatly extending the scope of its operations. By the provisions of the new act about 54,000,000 acres of land would be forfeited and restored to the public do- main. The bill was discussed by Messrs. McRae, Boatner (Dem.) of Louisiana, and Cobb (Dem.) of Alabama, who favored its passage, and by Mr. Lacey (Rep.) of Iowa, Gear (Rep.) of Iowa, Wilson (Rep.) of Washington and Hermann (Rep.) of Ore- gon, who opposed it. The bill was not disposed of.

In the consideration morning hour, bills were passed to repeal the act exempting public lands in Alabama from the operation of the law of 1853 relating to min- eral lands and authorizing the appoint- ment of a commission to allot land in severalty to the Uncompahgre Indians on their reservation in Utah, the residue of the lands to be opened to settlement and to negotiate with the Uintah Indians for the cession to the United States of the lands in their reservation not needed for allotment in severalty.

Bills were also passed restoring to the State of Michigan two flags carried by the Twenty-second Michigan infantry volun- teers, now held in the War Department with other captured flags; directing the transfer by the Secretary of War to the city of Marshalltown, Ia., of four obso- lete gun carriages in the Rock Island, Ills., arsenal; for the relief of Martin Parks, formerly first lieutenant company B, Eleventh West Virginia volunteers; appropriating $1,800,000 to pay A. E. Red- stone of Tulare county, Cala., for the lands and improvements taken for the Sequoia National park, and appropriating $300 to pay Mathew N. Priest, company G, Thirteenth Ohio volunteers, for serv- ices as engineer of the steamers Moderator and Silver Wave, in running the bat- teries at Vicksburg and Grand Gulf, Miss., for which he was detailed by General Grant.

The contested election case of Thrasher vs. Enloe, from the Eighth Tennessee district, was decided in favor of the lat- ter without a division upon the unan- imous report of the Committee on Elec- tions, that he was entitled to his seat.

The House at 5:20 adjourned till to- morrow.

A Bridge Burned.

Trinidad, Colo., July 10.—A bridge 140 feet long and 80 feet high was burned on the Aguilar branch of the Gulf road to- day by striking coal miners. A week ago some of the strikers resumed work. Those still out swear they will use every meth- od possible to prevent shipment of the coal mined. Deputy United States mar- shals have been sent to the scene.

The Institute.

At the Teachers' Institute yesterday morn- ing the opening lecture was given by Prof. W. G. Miller on the subject "Philosphy of Language Culture." The attendance was considerably increased over that of the open- ing day and the interest increased corres- pondingly.

This morning the lecture will be given by State Superintendent John F. Murray. The public is cordially invited to be present at 8:30 to hear this address. A great many of the citizens of this city have shown their in- terest by being present at many of the exer- cises.

All the classes are full, and none proving of more interest to the teachers than Profes- sor Bach's music classes. He is presenting the subject to them as teachers, in order that it will be of value in the school room; and his work is highly appreciated by all. Professor Farquhar lectures on school management; which will continue through- out the remainder of the week, are an at- tractive feature. Next week he will give a course of five lectures on Pedagogy.

Professor Mathews is this week devoting his time to arithmetic and civil government. Next week he will have grammar, reading, orthography and orthoepy. Professor Miller is dealing with physiology and grammar, and will next week take up magnetic and literature.

WAITE MAKES A PLAY

He Goes to Desperate Straights to Win the Victor Election.

WAITE DEMANDS THE RELEASE

Of Two of Sheriff Bowers's Prisoners Who Were Arrested on Warrants—The Sheriff Complies With the Demand.

Special to The Gazette.

Cripple Creek, July 10.—Today Governor Waite's fine Italian hand was visible in the Victor town election, and to such desperate straights were the Populist healers driven that they called upon the Governor to resort to a direct interference with the peace officer of El Paso county and demand the release of two prisoners arrested by Sheriff Bowers and about to be conveyed to the county jail. The act has resulted in a loud denunciation of the Governor and his lieutenants, and more so when it became known that his ex- cellency communicated through the State militia.

Yesterday morning Sheriff Bowers and two or three deputies went over to Victor to serve some warrants which the sheriff had for some violators of the law, and to see that no trouble took place during the progress of the election. The men arrested on warrants were Wm. McCloskey, and a man by the name of O'Brien. No sooner than had the sheriff made the arrests than was Governor Waite notified of the affair and urged to in- terfere. This the governor did and at once notified the commanding officer to demand their release. The sheriff complied under protest that he was merely doing his duty under the laws of the State. He was further notified by his Excellency not to arrest any more violators of law on charges dating dur- ing the late unpleasantness until those under bond and in jail in Colorado Springs had been given a trial.

The action of the governor is considered by many to be a mere political trick to aid in the Populist success in the Victor munici- pal election.

Mining Notes.

The Portland Mining company comes to the front with another genuine surprise. To day at a meeting held in this city it was decided to declare a 3 per cent. dividend on the entire capital stock of $3,000,000, amount- ing to $90,000, which will be distributed among the stockholders of that company.

News of another big strike on Squaw mountain is at hand. This time the rich ore comes from the Little Pittsburgh, a claim directly south from the Santa Rita, and owned by Wm. O'Donnell and others. Where opened the vein is fully 5 feet wide with a pay streak of 12 inches in width in which quantities of free gold can be seen. The strike was only made yesterday and the values cannot be determined. It is esti- mated very high as it contains so much free stuff that is visible.

J. C. Dickey and associates, the lessees of the Calumet properties, are finding a large quantity of rich float in the Morning Star, a claim adjoining the Buena Vista on the north. Late last night they opened up a fine looking vein which they believe to be the source of the rich stuff.

Later developments have emphasized the importance of the find on the Beacon, on Beacon hill. Sufficient ore is in sight and justifies the prediction that this will in the near future be one of the big shippers.

REARDON DEFEATED.

The General Goes Down Before the Hull Hill Combination at Victor.

Special to The Gazette.

Victor, July 10.—The first municipal elec- tion held in this city occurred to-day and resulted in the defeat of General Frank Reardon by 12 plurality. His chief oppo- nent was Bruce Belser, who was a mayoralty candidate on the Populist ticket. James Doyle was also running, although he withdrew last night from the race, and polled some 50 votes. The vote stood, Reardon 188, and Berger 200. The entire Populist city ticket is elected. It is claimed by General Reardon's friends and supporters that enough illegal votes were cast by non-residents who were with the successful candidate, to have changed the result. It is probable that a contest will be made.

COURT AND CAMP.

Retention of the State Troops at Cripple Creek.

The Denver News had an article yester- day morning to the effect that the reason for the Governor countermanding his or- der for the troops leaving Cripple Creek is because he has information that Sheriff Bowers has an army of 600 deputies to take into Cripple Creek the minute the troops leave. The absurdity of such a thing is so apparent to people in this county that it needs no denial. It was announced that the information came from John Calderwood and Frank Wolfe. If Calderwood is in Denver the sheriff would like to know it as he has a warrant for him.

The sheriff went to Cripple Creek with a deputy or two yesterday to make some arrests but who the men wanted are and what the crimes, could not be learned at the courthouse. The grand jury has been at work for some time but has not yet reported to the court. Whether the warrants are the result of the work of the jury could not be learned. Governor Waite had some stirring re- marks about the courts of this county ac- cording to the Denver papers yesterday morning. They only caused a smile among the people of this county who read them. The attorneys for the miners have publicly and privately expressed the greatest confidence in the judge of this district and that he would defend their clients in every right, while the people of the district love and venerate him as much as they despise the old dotard who villifies him.

General Brooks, commander of the State militia, came down yesterday to give tes- timony before the grand jury. He was in the jury room some time. He was also on the streets but a Gazette representative was unable to find him to inquire as to the real reason for the retention of the troops at camp. It was said the General was not quite sure what his treatment would be in this place before coming but he found quite as warm a welcome as any other citizen. Those who met him during the late unpleasantness at camp have only words of kindness regarding him personally.

For the first time in seventy-five years, during the past six months the arrivals of immigrants from Europe were less than the number of those who crossed the ocean in the opposite direction. The number of immigrants in the first eleven months of the fiscal year ending in the midsummer of 1893 was 470,210, a decided decrease in number from that of previous years; but in a similar period ending in the midsummer of 1894, the number of immigrants showed a further decrease to 288,020. At the same time the number of those returning to Europe, which had been inconsiderable in the year before 1893 began to show an increase and in the period ending in the midsummer of 1894 the arrivals were only 66 per cent. of the departures. There is not in this statement anything to cause serious alarm, though unfortunately the statement is not sufficient to explain the true condition of affairs. It is pretty generally recognized by all those who take the trouble to know what is going on around them that there are as many and more foreigners in this country at the present time as we can safely stand, and anything that tends to check the volume of immigration, or to stimulate the return to other shores of our unwelcome visitors is in itself a good thing. But it is to be feared that the exchange now being made is not to the advantage of the United States. The emigrants who are returning to the countries of the old world are better workmen and more desirable citizens than those who continue to pour in upon us in reduced numbers, but still sufficiently numerous to cause grave anxiety and serious disturbance. It has been said for many years back that the time would soon come when America would be so filled that the emigrating classes of Europe would no longer find an opportunity here, and then there would come a time of rest when we would be left free to work out the grave problems of the assimilation and the Americanization of the foreigners. But if to the period of unrestricted immigration is to succeed one in which the more desirable classes of our foreign population are to be driven out by men who can work for less wages because they have lower standards of living and thinking, the change will certainly not be an advantage to us and it will only be a question of a short time until our native population will also feel the pressure of an inevitable necessity and will be driven out to make room for the foreigners. That immigration is less than for many years and that many foreigners are leaving the country does not afford any reason for a relaxation of the efforts to secure adequate laws for the protection of our workingmen and of our institutions against the barbarians.

It would no doubt be discreditable to the city of Denver if the exact facts concerning the Populist administration of the city's police department were made public, but that does not afford sufficient excuse for the persistent suppression of the facts. It is one of the gravest of the many charges which may be brought against Governor Waite and his conduct of the affairs of the State that a willful policy has been adopted of overlooking offenses against the peace of the city and the property of citizens. At the time the Coxeyites were encamped in the city and insolent beggars were terrifying women and children by house to house excursions, all appeals for police protection were treated with contempt. Another instance of the same spirit was shown Sunday when a crank successively smashed several of the plate glass windows of the First National bank without any attempt at interference from a policeman who was watching the proceedings. Governor Waite's disregard and violation of ... he has sworn to execute is one of the most painful and depressing spectacles that Colorado has ever been called to endure, but the truth about the matter should not be covered up.

Vigilant does not seem to be as fortunate across the water as she was on this side and the result of the races this month will be open again to the question of the relative superiority of the American and English crafts. This is a fortunate occurrence. The English have already shown that they have plenty of pluck and are not yet despairing of carrying the America's cup across the water, but anything that will tend to convince them that their chances of winning the next race are good will conduce to good sport.

have shown in the Exchange from the start, and as they expect no direct benefits, but are working for the general good of Colorado Springs, Cripple Creek and vicinity, they should have the hearty co-operation and support of the mine owners and others interested in the welfare of our city and county.

President Cleveland shows a proper appreciation of his duty in ordering United States troops to protect United States property and to enforce the orders of United States courts. At another time it might be well to consider how far the actions of the President and his party are responsible for the labor troubles and the desperation of the laborers, but at so grave a crisis, partisan politics may well be overlooked in a united effort to uphold and maintain the law.

Whoever is responsible for the retention of the militia at Cripple Creek the action is a wise one. There is altogether too much reason to believe that the withdrawal of the militia would be the signal for renewed acts of violence against non-union miners and against such union men as are not willing to countenance deeds of terror and lawlessness. Such acts might be unauthorized by the Miners' union or even in opposition to it, but they would be none the less detrimental to the interests of the camp, and unpleasant to the victims.

Attention is again directed to the condition of the Pope who is said to be seriously ill. Under the present method of choosing the supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church it is almost inevitable that he should be an old man, and almost equally probable that he should be a decrepit one. Changes in the papacy are therefore more frequent than in any of the temporal thrones.

In another column is published this morning some extracts from the speech of Senator Hill against the much amended and distorted Wilson bill which was so unanimously condemned by the Democratic House Saturday and referred to a conference committee of Senators and Representatives for revision. Mr. Hill's protest, although from a Democrat, is worthy of perusal.

Imagination shudders at the thought of the possibility of a Populist President.

SENATOR HILL'S PROTEST.

Extracts from His Great Speech on Tuesday Against the Gorman Bill

"You have made my path of duty an easy one. The Senate bill, the Gorman compromise bill, as it is now generally known in the press and throughout the country, I mean the bill in its present shape, is neither satisfactory to the Democratic party nor to the country. There is no mistaking public sentiment upon this point. We promised the people bread and we are giving them a stone.

"The provisions of the bill are not consistent; they violate well established Democratic principles; they are unfair in their discriminations. Numerous Senators around the Democratic side of this chamber must feel as though Democratic principles have been surrendered or bartered away to secure the triumph of this botch compromise measure which is really acceptable to no one. I am sure that if they expressed their honest sentiments they do not approve this bill any more than I do.

"This is not a Democratic bill, I am sure; it is not a distinctly Republican bill; it is not a Populist bill entire, but it is a mixture of all. It is a ragbag production; it is a crazy quilt combination; it is a splendid nothing. I believe the income tax feature as a whole and in many of its details to be unconstitutional.

"This bill does not meet the public expectations, but at best is an empty and beggarly fulfillment of Democratic pledges. It does those things which it ought not to do and leaves undone those things which it ought to do.

"Mr. President, I do not fail to appreciate the gravity of the situation, but the course which duty and consistency require me to pursue at this hour is as clear to me as the noonday sun. Sink or swim, live or die, survive or perish, I cannot and will not support this bill in its present shape."

Deplorable Ignorance

Some of the attempts of the daily press to discuss the silver question manifest ignorance that is often really amusing. The Philadelphia Evening Telegraph, for example, the other day in an article filled, as is usual with the editorials in that paper, with assertion unsupported by argument, declared that silver was demonetized because the value had fallen, and no nation rejected it until the decline had begun. The truth, of course, is that our own government, which led the way in 1873 in the movement, demonetized silver while the silver dollar was worth 3 cents more than the gold dollar. That was the very excuse afterwards made for the act, namely, that the silver dollar was so dear that it was practically out of circulation. The Record, speaking upon the subject of silver, recently remarked that if silver should be restored nobody but Asia would trade with us. The fact that all Asia is at this moment trading with gold-using Europe might have calmed the apprehensions of The Record. Europe buys from us now, not because we have the gold standard, but because we have for sale at the lowest prices the commodities which Europeans require. Europe will buy American cotton whether the money be gold or silver or nickel or paper. Were we upon a basis of bimetallism, while Europe remained upon a gold basis, we should not sell less material to Europe, but we should probably sell very much more to Asia. As The Financial News of London showed the other day, the trade of Asia will go to the Western nation that has a silver currency which it is not afraid to use.—(Philadelphia Manufacturer.

BAD CASE SCALL HEAD

Two Doctors Do No Good. Tries CUTICURA. First Set Helps. Four Sets Completely Cure.

Our baby Pearl was born Nov. 29, 1891. From her birth she had Scall Head until she was four months old, then it became worse, and came out in small white pimples, and then spread to large yellow scabs. We tried two doctors, but they could not do it any good. So we tried CUTICURA REMEDIES, giving her a teaspoonful three times a day with CUTICURA SOAP, and then using the CUTICURA. The first set we tried helped her, and I believe we used four sets she was perfectly cured. At the age of six months our baby weighed thirty four pounds. Her skin is fair and smooth, and scalp perfectly well. Portrait inclosed. I would not do without CUTICURA REMEDIES, and I can recommend them as most excellent for children.

I used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, for about two months, and the entire expense was but $5.00, which no one would regret for a nice smooth skin. It left my face in the best of condition, free from all pimples and blotches. I still use the CUTICURA SOAP, and always shall.

This low rate, however, is open to everyone, and all those who wish to avail themselves of it can purchase tickets July 16th and 17th, good to return from Chicago August 7th. Parties purchasing tickets via the Burlington route secure the advantage of fast vestibuled trains leaving Denver daily at 9 p. m., affording better accommodations and quicker time than any other line. For full information call on J. M. Ellison, local ticket agent, or address G. W. Vallery, general agent, 1039 17th st., Denver.

YOU MAY STRIKE IT RICH.

If you could pick up $21 000 in gold by one week's work, it would be worth going a few hundred miles to get, wouldn't it?

That's just what the Aztec mine (Colfax Co., New Mexico), produced in seven days, with total product to date of nearly a million dollars.

This rich mine is one of many in the newly-discovered Moreno Valley and Ute Creek placer and quartz gold districts. Take Santa Fe route to Springer, N. M., thence stage to the camp.

Short winters, healthful climate and rich prospects. This may be the chance of a lifetime. Ask local agent A. T. & S. F. R. R. for illustrated pamphlet. It tells the truth about this new country.

Commodious and easy four-horse stages leave Springer every week day at 7 a. m., arriving at Cimarron (21 miles) 11.30 a. m., and Elizabethtown (50 miles) by 5:30 p. m. Passengers for Baldy connect at Ute Creek with separate coach to that camp, arriving 5 p. m. Those destined to Amizette can go from Elizabethtown by horseback or on a tri weekly stage. The stage fare Springer to Cimarron, is $2.50; to Baldy, $4; and to Elizabethtown, $5; with 10 per cent. discount for round trip. Twenty-five pounds free baggage allowed on stage.

GEO. T. NICHOLSON,
Gen. Pass. Agt.

For Toledo or Detroit?

Because it is the shortest line, avoids transfer across the city in case you are going farther east, and makes close connections with all trunk lines.

For all other Eastern Points?

Because its service is uniformly good and you can make no mistake in asking for tickets via the Wabash. C. M. HAMPSON,

MIDLAND ON WHEELS

The Old Terminal Station Being Transported to the New Town of Gillette.

Cripple Creek, July 10.—An exciting scene was enacted at the old junction of the Midland Terminal railroad and the Kuykendall stage line Sunday, in which the life of a town was at stake. Ever since the Fourth the extension of the Midland Terminal has been open for traffic to Gillette, a new station near the old deputy camp in the vicinity of the Summit mine in Beaver park.

Of course with the road open the principal offices of the railroad as well as Manager Newell's headquarters would be removed to Gillette. On Sunday, just why that day was selected is not known, unless it is because traffic is light and no junction could be secured, a gang of railroad men appeared at Midland and began to remove the "Y," upon which the engines are turned. This meant death for Midland, as it was evident that all the railroad men would make headquarters at Gillette in the future.

Midland has all along depended upon the terminus of the railroad and stage line for existence. When the stage ceased to go farther than Gillette it was a hard blow. Like Divide when the Terminal was built to Midland the town became dead. Still they expected to have the railroad men even if the passengers did go on through.

So imagine their surprise when the men began to tear out that "Y." Some of the citizens it is said, went up the hills and tried to run a bluff by firing their Winchesters over the heads of the railroad men at work. It did not work, as the railroad men had gotten used to Winchesters during the deputy encampment at Divide, and it did not scare them to gaze down such a harmless weapon as a Winchester.

The terminal "Y" was removed and as a result most of the citizens decided to follow. The work of destruction is going on rapidly and ere a week it is stated that Gillette will have most of the movable portion of Midland which is being torn down and transported in wagons. It is said that about all that will be left will be such buildings as are owned by non-residents and the real estate which is now on a toboggan and declining rapidly.

The railroad company is now having the depot torn down and before the end of the week it will again be in place at Gillette. Most of the boarding houses, saloons and residences are sharing the same fate. The residents of Midland will all move to Gillette, a place that of necessity must always be a good trading point. The mains of the water company that supplies this city with aqua pura pass through it and have already been tapped for local use. Here the Terminal company is building its roundhouse and before long will put in machine shops.

The Fourth in the Country.

Falcon, July 7, 1894.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

The people of the eastern part of El Paso county enjoyed the Fourth of July in good old-fashioned style, the style that makes patriots and good citizens. A large crowd of people gathered at the Tells schoolhouse. An address was made by J. M. Dickey of Colorado Springs, an eloquent speaker. In the course of his remarks he declared that the United States have produced more great men in the least space of time than any other nation. These men mostly have come from the pioneer element of the west. The great deliverer from our present national turmoil will no doubt come from west of the Mississippi.

Appropriate toasts were offered by Messrs. Herman, Flinn, Reaves, Sullivan and Dyer. After these a very interesting and timely address was made by Rev. A. Curl. He held that America has always furnished the men for the demands of the hour.

At the close of the exercises there were pig races, sack races, pole climbing, etc., affording amusement for all. It was a glorious Fourth and a good time.

RESTORES Natural Growth OF THE HAIR —WHEN— ALL OTHER Dressings FAIL

"I can cordially indorse Ayer's Hair Vigor, as one of the best preparations for the hair. When I began using Ayer's Hair Vigor, all the front part of my head —about half of it—was bald. The use of only two bottles restored a natural growth, which still continues as in my youth. I tried several other dressings, but they all failed. Ayer's Hair Vigor is the best."—Mrs. J. C. A WORD WITH YOU.

Two blades of grass where there was one before. That's what our garden hose makes; and that's what Jerry Simpson says is "honest productive effort." Think of it! Velvety lawns, fruitful gardens; refreshened, rarefied atmosphere. This is the picture our garden hose calls up, and makes you feel a fatherly interest in all creation. After the evening meal he gives to the grass and flowers the drink that the skies have denied, supplementing Dame Nature's work, correcting her shortcomings. We can find poetry in garden hose. You can not find profit in cheap garden hose. We sell the most durable garden hose in the world. Don't forget that we are leaders in hose novelties.

The Trades Assembly last night elected the following officers for the ensuing term: President, G. C. Ash; vice-president, Chas. Geissler; recording secretary, Fred McArthur; financial secretary, S. Silverberg; treasurer, L. W. Bates.

Mrs. Wm. Elstun and daughter, Mrs. D. A. Dryer, of Emporia, Kans., arrived in the city yesterday and have taken the cottage at 522 South Nevada avenue for the summer. Mrs. Elstun is the mother of Mr. George Elstun, second clerk at The Antlers.

The Countess Wachmeister is the guest of Mrs. Richmond Finch for a few days. The Countess is a leader among the theosophists and is to deliver two lectures in this city. The lectures will be given in the parlors of Mrs. Whipple, residence corner of Navada and Kiowa, this afternoon and to-morrow afternoon. Both will be upon theosophical subjects.

Before Clerk Clay White of the County Court yesterday Betsy C. Gomer from near Eastonville, made final proof on her land claim near that place. Mrs. Gomer is 57 years of age and has lived on her claim for the past seven years. She was able to write her name without the use of glasses and is an active and lively old lady. She is the oldest person in the eastern part of the county and her daughter is the next oldest.

Manager Nye expects to have everything in good shape and be prepared to open the Broadmoor Casino next Saturday evening for a season of ten weeks. He expects the orchestra will arrive from Los Angeles by next Friday afternoon or Saturday morning. There has been some delay about their starting on account of the railroad troubles but as the roads are now open they should arrive on time.

Yesterday afternoon Policeman Harlan arrested a bad man from Cripple Creek at the Kiowa street viaduct. He had a big 44 revolver on him. He gave the name of John Cooper and said that he had been a miner at Cripple Creek but had left there some time ago. He was fined $25 and costs for carrying concealed weapons. A man named Fred Wymouth, who once served as a deputy sheriff of this county, was also fined yesterday by the police magistrate for carrying concealed weapons. The city officials are preparing to stop the carrying of guns.

The bicycle lantern parade which was disfigured by the rain last Thursday evening, is to be repeated on a more elaborate scale Friday evening, the 13th inst. As before the parade will be in the hands of our local wheel club and the programme and the route will be the same as that previously published. The greater the number of participants, the more brilliant the display, so let every citizen who rides a wheel interest himself sufficiently to turn out with some form of decoration. The various dealers in the city have laid in a supply of small lanterns purposely for this occasion so that those who wish to participate in the parade will have no trouble in finding proper material for decorating their wheels.

A Good Work.

At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon some interesting facts were brought out from the general secretary's report for the month of June. It showed that there had been an average daily attendance at the rooms of eighty-three, even through the hot weather. One hundred and eighty-five strangers had been welcomed during the month and no better-inviting loafing places than in other ways. An average of fifty had used the gymnasium every week, and 115 baths had been taken. Seventy-one was the average attendance at the young men's rally Sunday afternoons, and twelve at the Workers' League meetings. A young men's Bible class with a pledged membership already of nineteen has been organized. The treasurer's report showed that in spite of the times the association is behind very little thus far, but it is seriously embarrassed for the present month. With such a record, which means so much more than the mere statement of statistics, this work should not be obliged to go begging in such a city as this.

A. Preston and family of Wichita, Kan., are at the Graham for a week or so.

The Cliff and the Barker both have a very lively crowd of young folks this year.

The Cliff will give their weekly hop to-morrow night. The Cliff hops are very popular.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Kempshall and daughter of Peoria, Ill., are at the Cliff House.

Professor E. J. Reymond and sister of New Castle, N. H., are at the Barker for a short stay.

Blind Tom will give a concert at Wheeler Hall to-night for the benefit of the new piano fund. Blind Tom needs no recommendation in this country, for most everyone has heard him, and a crowd is expected to-night. The tickets will be sold at 50c.

The new bicycle club of Colorado Springs made their first tour yesterday. They rode through Manitou and had their pictures taken near the Cog depot. Some of the lady riders have only been riding a few days, but they made the trip just the same.

O. H. Bentley and wife, I. J. Ault and wife, F. S. Barrett and Cal Graham started for the summit on foot Monday morning and lost their way. They started from the Graham at 8 o'clock Monday morning and did not return until 10 o'clock yesterday. It seems they got lost and were wandering about in the darkness until about 11 o'clock when they found the toll-keepers house at Bear Creek canon, three miles from their trail, and spent the rest of the night there. The ladies were nearly worn out when they reached home. The people at the Graham had just organized a search party when the lost ones returned.

Going Out of Business.
The entire stock of the Famous Shoe House is to be closed out. Having fully decided to discontinue the shoe business in this city I now offer my entire stock of shoes and store fixtures at eastern wholesale cost and less in order to close out as soon as possible. I shall offer great inducements to purchasers. In order to make this sale genuine I will in no case allow one penny more added to the price of a single item than actual eastern cost. It will pay you to call and look through whether you buy or not. You can do so without trouble to yourself or salesmen, as I have every kind of shoe in my stock so arranged with former and present cost price marked on each in plain figures, so that you can see for yourself. If you want shoes don't get left, but come at once and get full benefit of this sale while every department is complete and sizes good.

Prosperous Colorado Springs.
The times are out of joint in almost every city and state in the Union; business is dull, factories are closed, building has ceased, and men are idle. This condition of things is slightly felt here, but only in a sympathetic way, and it should not be felt here at all. While panic conditions prevail elsewhere, Colorado Springs is a prosperous town. New dwellings are being erected in all parts of the town. One new business block has already been built this year, and another one is under way; a splendid Coliseum is to be built at once, and when it is done it will make Colorado Springs a convention city, and draw money from all parts of the United States; the Casino bids fair to be opened for the season; gas has been discovered at Colorado City, and Cripple Creek daily adds wealth to the town. The town is full of people, and houses to rent are scarcer than they have been in five years, despite the hundreds of new houses that have been built. We advocate real estate investments in this town. That advice on our part is an old story, and we have paid a good many hundred dollars in advertising it; but the advice is better to-day than it ever was. Since we have been in business here a great many Colorado Springs men have invested their money in Denver, Salt Lake, Ogden, Galveston, Pueblo, Helena and other places. We venture to say that those same men will admit that they would be fifty per cent. better off if they had invested in real estate in Colorado Springs.
But if this town were ten times more prosperous than it is you could not make any money here unless you tried. There is no money made by wearing a long face, standing on street corners, and croaking.
We will trade real estate for mining stocks; we will trade the real estate at its value, and want the stock at its value. We will trade mining stocks for real estate. We have money to loan on real estate; we want to loan only on good property, and to men who will meet their obligations. We offer all kinds of real estate for sale on easy monthly, quarterly or annual payments.
